

Straining Towards the Prize

Stereotype Threat and Other Issues that Affect Student Success

Monday, March 12

1111 Biotech/Genetics (Auditorium)

12:00PM- 1:00PM

“The Cultural Contexts for Student Success”

Dr. Angela Byars-Winston, Department of Medicine, Center for Women's Health Research

“Conceptualizing the Discussion and making it Practical from a Student’s Perspective”

Althea Miller, University of Wisconsin- Madison Student, Psychology, Research Assistant, Prejudice and Intergroup Relations Lab, University of Wisconsin - Madison

The goal of this seminar is to promote understanding of student success models and cultural factors that affect diverse learners in higher education, and to begin towards a path of innovative strategies to combat stereotype threat.