

CARL A. GRANT VISITING SCHOLAR LECTURE &
UW-MADISON EDUCATION RESEARCH POSTER FAIR KEYNOTE ADDRESS

The Influence of Kindness and Community in Broadening Participation in STEM Careers

February 23, 2018, 12:30 - 1:30 pm
Wisconsin Institutes for Discovery, 330 Orchard Street

Mica Estrada

Assistant Professor, Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences and the Institute of Health and Aging, University of California, San Francisco

Social influences can help African Americans, Latinos and Native Americans persist in science, technology, engineering and mathematics academic programs and careers. Social psychologist Mica Estrada's will describe how institutional policies and climates that encourage kindness affirm social inclusion and improve the integration experience for students, faculty and administrators.

Free lunch catered
by Steenbock's
while supplies last

SPONSORED BY

Wisconsin Center for Education Research
Vice Provost for Teaching and Learning